

Restoration in Christ Ministries

Glimpses of the Fruit of

God's Faithfulness

Healing from DID

I want to thank Diane Hawkins and the RCM staff for their excellent training programs and for the efficient Primary Identity Approach to resolving DID. I was abused by close family members throughout my childhood which resulted in DID. I have taken several RCM webinars pertaining to DID, the Survivors' School, and have audited Weeks 1 and 2 of the RCM DID Training Internship program. I am now fully integrated and am happy to be living life as God originally intended. I want to help others experience this same peace and freedom. Thank you so much! Patricia

Healing from DID and Ritual Abuse

I had been in therapy for many years seeking inner healing and finally had stopped. I worked with a guy for a couple years who used the alter approach. I made progress and was able to function in my world pretty well. I knew things were not perfect inside, but I was so much better than when I was younger that I figured this was good enough.

I stumbled upon RCM through a friend who had been trained through their program, and he was looking for someone with whom to practice what he had learned. I said I wanted to learn too—so why not practice on me? We began meeting via Skype a couple times a month. Through the process outlined by RCM, I was able to break free from the spiritual bondages of ritual abuse and start healing my fragmented system. We identified the primaries, and he worked with each one to resolve their conflicts with me and with each other. I did not know that life could get any better than “good enough.” I started to experience fewer triggers and more security in my relationships with God and others.

I was able to break free from the spiritual bondages of ritual abuse and start healing my fragmented system.

Gradually RCM helped me find the road to complete wholeness. I had walked around for years fragmented and coping—but being whole and living life like other whole people is much happier and much more fulfilling. I have joy in my relationships that I was never allowed to have with parts. I have confidence where there had been insecurity. I have hope where there had been fear and condemnation. I hear from God regularly, when before I wasn’t sure He liked me much. I learned to appreciate my system in all its brokenness so that it could stop being a system and become part of a whole me.

Being whole and living life like other whole people is much happier and much more fulfilling.

RCM has given me back what the enemy tried to steal. It gave me back my identity in Christ, my place as a favored and cherished child of God, and my true hope for the future both in the here and the hereafter. There are not really words strong enough to say thank you—but there is a lump in my throat, love in my heart, and deepest respect for all that RCM has taught me. Jacki S.

Gaining Great Freedom

In the fall of 2016 somehow I “stumbled” upon the Restoration in Christ website for those with DID with SRA, a Christian based teaching ministry. Soon I knew I needed a counselor to work with me using the “Primary Identity Approach.” RCM gave 3 names. I contacted one of the names.

With excitement I share that in 2 years of biblical counseling, renunciation, breaking many vows, curses, false teachings, lies, breaking off shame and self-rejection, etc., I am more free than I experienced in my life ever!!! I'm becoming more of the female God created me to be!! Chains of bondage have been broken off in Jesus name!! I'm deeply grateful for RCM. Hallelujah!!!! Thank you RCM for touching my life deeply!! Mary S.

Finding Hope Again

There are no words to describe the thankfulness I have in my heart that you (and your late husband) stuck through the hard parts in what Jesus had for you to learn so that you could teach others. And I'm so thankful for your heart to help other survivors out there. Also, I would like to thank you for the opportunity to listen to the Survivor School online. I finished all of the classes last week and have to say that for the first time in many, many years I feel hope again that there is an end to this mountain I have been trying to climb.

For the first time in many,
many years
I feel hope again that there is an end to this mountain I have been trying to climb.

Many years ago I attended a conference at a little Methodist church in Sugarhill, GA, just north of Atlanta. I had just found out about the possibility that I was DID. I remember Tom's kindness when meeting him. He immediately felt "safe" to me. After this I was in a prayer counseling ministry that was alter-based. I'm thankful for the many hours and years they poured into helping me and for the deliverance from probably most of the structures set in place by the cults. However, I knew much had still not changed for me.

I had known about your ministry from the beginning, but honestly after so many years (I am 59 now) I didn't feel too hopeful. In January I was really distressed after the first couple of live online classes because I realized how far I still had to go. But thankfully I decided to stick with it because I really know with all that I am that the Primary approach is what I need.

This week the Holy Spirit led me to an issue, so I used the steps and questions [in the workbook] (I.B.M.T.) As alters began to pop up, I remembered what you said about sticking to the primaries and with the Holy Spirit's help made it through the process to the other side. Long story short I had a breakthrough in an area that I feel was pretty major. I can already feel such a difference so I am very encouraged that the other conflicts will be resolved. I'm very determined to keep learning and applying what you said in the class until it becomes my own. I am hopeful and eager, which is a big change. Thank you with all my heart. D. Gray

Finding the Primary Identity Approach is Best

My husband and I have been training and equipping in different approaches to healing and deliverance for nearly 40 years. 20+ years ago we learned that I come from an SRA generational family and have an extremely complex system. Since then we have continued to study and do research, learning and growing through conferences, books, videos, and consulting with experts in the DID/SRA field. In 2016, we purchased the 3rd edition of Restoring the Shattered CD training from RCM. After completing it, I came to recognize my Primaries; yet we still did not grasp what was going on.

Last year John and I watched the Primary Identity Approach webinar trainings. While it did help with communication in our marriage, we still did not fully understand how to do the Primary Identity Approach. This February John watched the entire recorded online Survivor's School of Healing twice, along with the Live Q & A with Diane. After watching the 15-hour training, which included demonstration, John was able to fully and deeply understand the Primary Identity Approach.

Now we can say this is the very best approach that we have found, and it is exciting that it is also effective with non-survivors. We HIGHLY recom-mend that you invest your time, energy, and money to really absorb this approach and get it down. We now know that if we had used the Primary Identity Approach earlier, I would have been integrated and living from my Original Self as God intended years ago. We believe part of the reason it took us several attempts was due to all of the information we had to put aside in order to process and change our paradigm. The difference between the Primary Identity Approach and other approaches is like the difference between an electric typewriter and a computer! After using the Primary Identity Approach, we have seen immediate fruit and more results.

This is the very best approach that we have found.

The difference between the Primary Identity Approach and other approaches is like the difference between an electric typewriter and a computer!

We are grateful for RCM and the role they have played in our lives and thousands of others. In our future ministry to extreme trauma survivors and others, we are definitely going to use the Primary Identity Approach.

John and Valerie Trautman

Appreciative of Ritual Abuse Training

Back in 2003, I first learned about emotional healing and asking God to replace lies with truth. I loved receiving healing myself, as well as being able to help others in very real ways that I had never known were possible. I then learned about dissociation, which I was also eager to minister to. But then I learned about ritual abuse, and it was too much for me to take in. But I told God that if I could ever reach a point in my life where I could handle it, I wanted to help these people.

Eleven years later, He told me to start listening to some videos I had been given of a conference by Tom and Diane Hawkins. Then I had the opportunity to listen to tapes from a friend from a seminar Diane had done on ritual abuse. It was very intriguing.

A year later, my wife and I had moved to another state where we got involved with a church that was all about healing, including emotional healing. The pastor then told me that there was a seminar in town by Diane Hawkins and asked if I would like to go. I jumped at the chance to learn more from her in person. Some of this stuff seemed a little over the top. But it was very interesting.

About the same time I had the opportunity to start ministering to a man who had been subjected to some pretty wild things. A seer friend was happy to work together in this. Little did I realize at first how valuable his help would be!

Soon we all realized the man we were ministering to was a ritual abuse survivor. All the wild things Diane had been talking about were suddenly right in front of us. I was in over my head, and I knew it. I emailed Diane, and to my amazement she emailed back and agreed to provide help. I had gained a mentor!

I then began to go to the RCM internships with Diane, and gained profound insights and tools that guided us through helping someone in the deepest end of the pool. Four years later, having now been able to help others as well, I am deeply grateful for being so well equipped in this most difficult of arenas. Being able to help people, no matter what abuse they may have been subjected to, is profoundly satisfying. Charles Young

Seeing the Incredible Results of Renunciations

I am a licensed professional counselor who has completed RCM's Level 1 & 2 certification. I have been using the Primary Identity Approach principles for the last few years with trauma survivors, and most recently the ritual abuse principles after completing Level II certification in October 2018 for prenatal healing and ritual abuse.

I am stunned at how useful the renunciations have been to not only provide freedom for survivors, but also to uncover spiritual connections that would have been undetected otherwise. Having known three survivors I work with personally for years, I am able to see firsthand the dramatic changes in their lives as a result of completing the renunciations. Prior to using the renunciations, attempts at deliverance had been mostly unsuccessful. I find consistently that spiritual bondages are uncovered, dissociated parts are identified, and parts taken captive in the spiritual realm are located and returned to the body as a result of what is uncovered while completing the renunciations.

I am able to see firsthand the dramatic changes in their lives as a result of completing the renunciations.

The scriptural reference in Revelation 12:11 that “they overcame him (Satan) by the blood of the Lamb and by the Word of their testimony” has taken on a new meaning for me as I see the freedom these women have experienced by the word of their testimony of renouncing generational and personal iniquities and asking God to disconnect them from ungodly connections. Specific results reported have included: increased spiritual discernment, increased understanding of the survivors relationship to God and the need to walk in obedience to God’s Word, greater strength in dealing with day to day difficulties, lifelong anxiety communicated as a “daily pit in my stomach” gone, the issue of continuous bleeding of several years ceasing, and most recently a survivor caught in a ten year, ungodly, abusive relationship able to stand firm and disconnect from her abuser after completing a renunciation that disconnected her from specific spiritual entities.

Thank you RCM, and specifically Diane, for your faithfulness in serving our Lord Jesus Christ and listening to the leading of his Holy Spirit! Lisa Pratt

Increased Healing in Clients

Restoration in Christ Ministries has made a huge difference in the way in which I have seen God bring healing to my clients. I began working with DID/SRA clients over 30 years ago. I started working with prenatal healing after Diane Hawkins came to Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, for a seminar. When we ask God, He reveals what happened from the prenatal stages of life. As Diane says, this is like starting at the root of a tree and bringing healing all the way out to the ends of the branches. Working with primary identities has been very helpful when identifying conflicts and finding healing and integration. The RCM seminars and teachings over the years have been invaluable. I have greatly appreciated all of Diane's efforts to provide training for us, including her books, resources, webinars, seminars, prayers, renunciations, and breaking generational programming. Another thing I have really appreciated is Diane sharing things that have happened to her and how she was able to find resolution.

Isaiah 61:1 - God's passion is to set the captives free. Daniel 2:22 - The Light belongs to Him - He reveals powerful and hidden things. Mary Lou Kunkle, Ph.D, LPC

RCM 25th Anniversary 2019

Restoration in Christ
Ministries